

THIS COULD SAVE YOUR FARM

What to think about when the wind turbine salesman comes to lease your land.

Be prepared, he will have a "snappy" response to all of these concerns!

- You could be giving up the right to your land for longer than you are alive.
- Educate yourself: Are 50 storey wind power machines that operate at less than 30% efficiency a good way to make electricity?
- Wind turbines are known to cause health problems and decrease property values.
- Long wind lease contracts are prepared by huge law firms to protect the wind companies, not you!
- The wind developer can get out of the contract but you can't.
- Turbines will be sited where they, not you, want them.
- You may have trouble selling, mortgaging, or getting insurance on your property.
- The construction process may cause upheaval to your daily life or damage to your farm.
- In time, you may be stuck with the worn-out turbine.
- The contract will probably gag you from complaining and prevent recourse if there are problems.
- You are ultimately liable for anything on your property.
- Your former friends and neighbours may decide to sue you if there are problems.

Just say "NO". Your friends and neighbours will THANK YOU.
